

4 WAYS TO ADD VALUE

BLENDING- the smooth gradual application of value generally done using pencils. Can be smoothed even further by blending with a stomp or tortillion.

HATCHING- creating value by using a series of parallel lines. The closer together the lines are the darker the value appears, the further apart the lines are the lighter the value appears.

CROSSHATCHING - creating value by using a series of intersecting lines. The closer together the lines are the darker the value appears, the further apart the lines are the lighter the value appears.

STIPPLING - creating value by using a series of dots, points or small dashes. The closer together the marks are the darker the value appears, the further apart the marks are the lighter the value appears.
